

Hi! I'm Sprig™ the Freedom Fighter.™
Did you know that some ISLAND FORESTS have very different kinds of animals and plants living on them?
That's because they are surrounded by water which stops other animals from visiting them.
Next time you travel to an island,
watch for special animals and plants.

Forests that are isolated like those on islands, have fewer types of plants and animals because new plant seeds and some animals have a tougher time reaching them. (Try to picture a squirrel swimming for miles to reach an island!)
